

WEDDING TIMELINE

There is no right or wrong way to sequence your big day. A lot can factor into the planning of your wedding's itinerary. For example, if your ceremony is taking place outdoors, you might opt for a start time that is closer to sunset in order to optimize lighting for your photos/video. Town/city ordinances might restrict amplified music at a certain time. You might also be nixing entire sections of formalities from your event's plan altogether. No matter what your vision is, we can help guide you in the right direction to maximize your moments.

Below is a sample timeline that maintains a common, yet popular order of operations.
